PERSONAL PROFILE

Hi, I'm Yasmin, an ambitious final year computer science undergrad at Goldsmiths, University of London, where I have gained experience in Python, MATLAB, Java, JavaScript and more. You can find many of my projects on my portfolio.

I am an analytical thinker who has an interest in back-end development. I have strong technical skills, particularly in deep learning, algorithms, and data structures, and enjoy solving problems in unique ways.

Due to graduate summer 2022, I am eager to secure a challenging graduate scheme opportunity to put my knowledge and skills to use.

EDUCATION

BSC Computer Science, at Goldsmiths, University of London

WORK EXPERIENCE

Department Student Coordinator

October 2021-Current

- I organize and lead meetings with program representatives and senior leadership to discuss any issues in the department and possible solutions.
- I have bi-weekly meetings with department undergrad directors to follow up with any new plans established in result to from student feedback.
- I work with senior leadership and the student's union on a collage-wide curriculum review proposal.

Program representative at Goldsmith, University of London

September 2018-June 2021

- I worked with staff to improve the student learning experience; I gathered feedback on the curriculum, students' progress, assessments, the learning resources, and teaching processes. I then worked in partnership with staff to negotiate solutions to problems where possible.

Volunteer as mathematics teaching assistant, Langley Park School for Girls

September 2016-June 2017

- I spent time explaining new topics to individual students or groups, helped students when they were having problems working through practice questions and checked student's classwork and gave them feedback as they were working.

Prefect, Langley Park School for Girls

September 2016-June 2018

- During year 12, I worked as the head charity prefect where I oversaw event planning to raise money for charities such as Crisis at Christmas and Marie Curie.
- During year 13, I ran student council, where I was tasked with sharing students' ideas, interests, and concerns with the leadership team. I also arranged many events to fund their ideas and wrote proposals to other organization around the school to obtain funding.
